Section to be completed BEFORE THE MOBILITY

I. PROPOSED MOBILITY PROGRAMME

Language of training: English

Overall objectives of the mobility:

The objectives of this mobility for training are related with the operations regarding veterinary virology, namely advanced techniques involving nucleic acids, both DNA and RNA and its use both in learning/teaching, veterinary research and diagnostic activities.

Added value of the mobility (in the context of the modernisation and internationalisation strategies of the institutions involved):

The exchange period will provide an excellent moment for a profound exchange in ideas and practices in the learning/teaching research and diagnostic in veterinary medicine, namely veterinarian virology.

This will also help in the establishment of closer ties between both institutions with the intention of start with didactic and research exchanges in the near future.

Activities to be carried out (including the virtual component, if applicable):

The activities will be based on contextualize experiences within the veterinary virology laboratory and its relation with learning/teaching of the subjects at the Integrated Master in Veterinary Medicine. Also the importance of these techniques in research and diagnostic will be explored.

In practice the activities will be as follow:

- Visits and active participation on the diagnostic and teaching activities related to veterinary virology;
- Discussion between all the participants about these issues.

Expected outcomes and impact (e.g. on the professional development of the staff member and on both institutions):

This mobility period activities will undoubtedly improve the capacity of the participants to deal with one of the most difficult and complex items in learning/teaching veterinary medicine, namely the best way to provide an hand-on contextualized environment to the students regarding the learning of practical subjects. This will be the biggest outcome of this mobility. Other outcomes will be the build up of a network with greater involvement of people of both Institutions and the build up of an agreement for future learning/teaching, research mobility exchanges between both Institutions.

II. COMMITMENT OF THE THREE PARTIES

By signing<sup>7</sup> this document, the staff member, the sending institution and the receiving institution/enterprise confirm that they approve the proposed mobility agreement.

The sending higher education institution supports the staff mobility as part of its modernisation and internationalisation strategy and will recognise it as a component in any evaluation or assessment of the staff member.

The staff member will share his/her experience, in particular its impact on his/her professional development and on the sending higher education institution, as a source of inspiration to others.

The staff member and the beneficiary institution commit to the requirements set out in the grant agreement signed between them.

The staff member and the receiving institution/enterprise will communicate to the sending institution any problems or changes regarding the proposed mobility programme or mobility period.
